Nethercott Farm in Devon

A group of year 5 and 6 pupils are having a wonderful week in Devon staying at Nethercott Farm, which belongs to the author Michael Morpurgo. They are experiencing what it's like to be part of a working farm, from feeding livestock to baking crumbles and everything in between, even mucking out the animals! Thank you to all the parents who allowed their children to take this opportunity and to our staff who are away with them. Most importantly, thank you to Megan, our Chair of Governors, who wrote the grant application that paid for this trip. I'm sure they'll all have unforgettable experiences to share. Have a look at our twitter feed to see some great film clips! Our P4C question for the week, from Devon is : What does courage look like to you?
